

LE DIABLE BLEU

DILLARD UNIVERSITY

1960

marks for Dillard University the completion of twenty-five years of service and the beginning of its second quarter century of continued progress. Speaking not only for ourselves, but also for the generations of Dillardites who have preceded us, we here record our appreciation to all those who helped make the dream that was Dillard a reality.

Moments To Remember

JAN-U-ARY TO DE-CEMBER WE'LL HAVE MOMENTS TO RE-MEM-BER
THE MARDI GRAS WE DID THE TOWN, THE DAY WE TORE THE GOAL POST DOWN
WE WILL HAVE THOSE MOMENTS TO REMEMBER - THE QUIET WALKS
THE NOISY FUN, THE XAVIER GAME WE ALMOST WON, WE WILL HAVE THOSE MOMENTS TO REMEMBER THOUGH SUMMER TURNS
TO WINTER AND THE PRESENT DISAPPEARS, THE LAUGH-
TER WE WERE GLAD TO SHARE WILL ECHO THRU THE YEARS
IN OUR SEPARATE WAYS, OUR MOMENTS TO REMEMBER -

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

D E D I C A T I O N

*W*ITH PRIDE and pleasure LE DIABLE BLEU 1960 turns the dedication spotlight on Dr. Samuel L. Gandy, a man who has done outstanding work in the field of religion. He is widely known for his speaking ability, sparkling wit, and good humor.

Since his arrival at Dillard University as dean of chapel in 1955, Dr. Gandy has become a friend of all in the Dillard community. The service he has rendered both to the Dillard family and the New Orleans community has indeed been invaluable.

Because of his many unselfish contributions to the development of better human relations . . . We, with a deep sense of humility and genuine affection, dedicate on our Silver Anniversary, LE DIABLE BLEU to Dr. Samuel L. Gandy.

DR. SAMUEL L. GANDY, Dean of The Chapel

Dr. Gandy fills many important roles—teacher, administrator, social reformer, counsellor and friend—but his principal function is that of pastoring to the Dillard community.

DEAN GANDY

Our busy Dean of Chapel always finds time to stop and chat. He is shown here, in his typical manner, sharing a joke with Lois Foucher Bowen and Richard Tankerson.

I N M E M O R I A M

Three of Dillard's most distinguished Trustees have died this school year. To each we owe an incalculable debt of gratitude.

EDGAR B. STERN

Dillard University will never forget Edgar B. Stern. His name is indelibly fixed upon this institution. Mr. Stern was a leading force in the establishment of Dillard University and through these years, as President of the Board of Trustees, he gave unstintingly of his time and resources. Without his devoted interest, Dillard might never have been, and surely it would not be what it is today. It is no exaggeration to say that this University is, in a very real sense, a monument to Edgar B. Stern's leadership. Good men, and Edgar B. Stern was a good man if ever there was, do not die, because goodness can never perish.

MONTE M. LEMANN

Dr. Lemann was one of Dillard University's most devoted friends. He was one of the original trustees, and in a true sense was one of Dillard's founders. For twenty-nine years, he gave wise leadership and faithful service as a Trustee. Dr. Lemann, because of his penetrating insight and erudition, was often called upon to lend his legal talents to worthy civic causes. Because he was, above all, a man dedicated to the welfare of his fellow man, he never declined such an invitation. Over the years, Dillard called often upon him, and always he responded gladly. The void which his death leaves is one that can never be filled entirely.

J. ERNEST WILKINS

Dr. Wilkins gained international renown as a member of the legal profession and as a statesman. He was also an active churchman. He was the first Negro to be elected a member of the Judicial Council of the Methodist Church. His worth to the nation was recognized in President Eisenhower's appointments as Assistant Secretary of Labor for International Affairs and later as a member of the Civil Rights Commission. Dillard has lost a friend and wise counselor in the death of Dr. J. Ernest Wilkins.

PRESIDENT DENT

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

DILLARD UNIVERSITY
NEW ORLEANS 22, LOUISIANA

To the Members of the Class of 1960:

Until now, your life has been spent in preparation for living and for making a living. You have been necessarily dependent upon others -- your parents, your spiritual guides, your teachers, and all those who have directly and indirectly helped to make your education and growth possible.

Now, for some of you the preparatory phase of life is over. For others, it will come to an end in another few years. You are about to enter the productive phase.

I believe that we at Dillard have given you some of the competence you will need for this new phase of your development. I am confident, notwithstanding the challenges and strains you are certain to face, that you will know how to make the most of your opportunities and of your life.

One of the greatest opportunities you will have is to help others -- as you have been helped. Your Alma Mater will need your support so that others may have the preparation for life that you have had here.

Good luck to each of you.

Sincerely,

Aw Dent

PERSONNEL AND CLASSES

MARY ALICE DAVIS
SHIRLEY BENNETT
Co-Editors

The Dillard family is composed of administrators, faculty staff and students. They are all dependent upon each other in performing their respective jobs.

The administrators are responsible for the general welfare of the University community. The administration of the school is accomplished through the leadership of men and women of high intelligence and great knowledge.

The faculty is primarily concerned with the guidance of our thinking and stimulation of academic and professional interests. Their leadership is recognized through the inspiration of those who follow to achievements higher than their most ambitious expectations. Since inspiration is a fleeting quality which few possess and even fewer are able to instill in others, we deem it an honor to have had the opportunity to associate with such great teachers.

The staff assists the University community in performing services which are extremely important and necessary for an active campus life.

Last but by no means least we have students, composing for the most part the most important part of the University. But it is the cooperation of all entities concerned—administrators, faculty, staff and students, that make for a truly great university. Here at Dillard we have a truly great university because of the wholeheartedness and cooperation of all parts.

FAIR DILLARD

Fair Dillard,
Gleaming white and spacious green,
We love thy every blade and tree;
We love thy breathless days, thy nights serene,
Thy halls where men are men and free.
Arise, O sons and daughters, hail thy queen,
And pledge for aye thy loyalty.

Fair Dillard,
Flaming love and learning's light,
Teach us each day, each passing hour,
A deep'ning love for beauty, truth, and right,
Source of all nobleness and pow'r.
And through the joyous day, the dreaded night,
Forever guide, Alma Mater!
Forever guide, Alma Mater!

FEATURES

JUDY BULLOCK
Editor

These are the moments to be remembered at Dillard during its silver anniversary year. This section is dedicated to those persons who believe that they are "more happy if less wise," and have made heroic strides toward achieving this end.

With new and old faces the year begins . . . arrival on campus . . . freshman orientation . . . registration . . . the mad rush to the bookstore . . . the beginning of classes . . . introduction to Chapel and Vesper services . . . the whirl of rush parties and pledging . . . Homecoming with its varied activities . . . the traditional Turkey Day Classic and the anxiety created near the close of the game as to which team will receive the "Bone of Contention." . . . the Christmas dinner and dance . . . the excitement created by victory and defeat during the basketball season . . . the eagerly anticipated and well-deserved spring holidays . . . the merriment of watching the "determined ones" participate in the activities of probation and initiation . . . the "open-window" season when the beauty of the campus is rejuvenated and when that "certain feeling" is in the air . . . pre-registration for the next school session . . . the burning of midnight oil before finals . . . the march down the "Avenue of Oaks," and finally the farewells with mixed emotions . . . These are, without a doubt, "Moments to Remember."

HOME COMING

Man, sure will be glad when dad gets that new Cadillac!

The reunion of Dillard's royalty and its chief student executive.

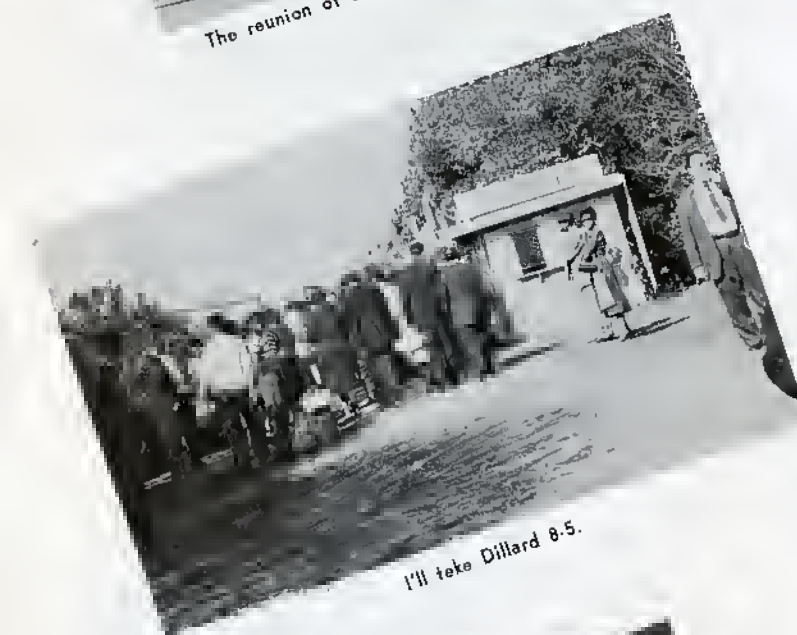

I got a feeling . . .

. . . and I just got the ball!

I'm a Dillard fan, too.

I'll teke Dillard 8-5.

I never knew a coronation could be like this.

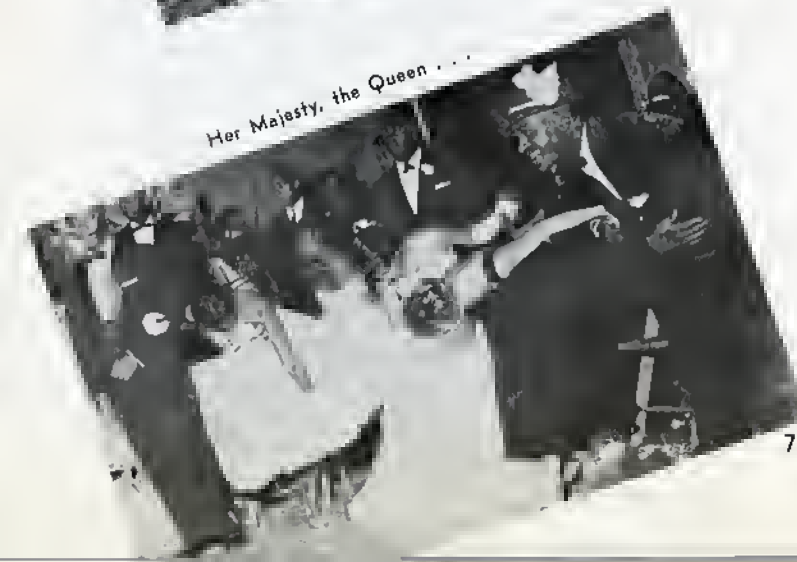

These are the thinking men. Do they smoke Viceroy?

"Our Fair Lady" expressing words of thanks.

Dr. Buell Gallagher delivers the Founders' Day address.

Her Majesty, the Queen . . .

We beat 'em, huh?

The Captain and the Queen.

Go to Dillard . . . that's the thing to do.

MOMENTS TO REMEMBER

We've been everywhere, seen everything, met everyone, and we're still at Dillard.

Is this the perfect hesitation?

This one is either from Cope or the library.

Aw shucks, you're kidding . . .

Say, man, can't you read?

Sure wish I had my maid.

. . . And now the meeting will come to order.

MOMENTS TO REMEMBER

Look y'all, no cavities.

No, you may not take me to the dance . . . I'm going with Santa Claus.

Let's run a boston.

Your water color is running.

There's still another half to go.

I hope that cute patient hasn't been discharged. He even asked me to fluff his pillow.

It was hard enough with one teacher and now we have two.

I knew there was nothing on this slide in the first place.

And I told them, "Ladies, this just isn't done here at Dillard."

MOMENTS TO REMEMBER

Be careful, this is the last one Woolworth had.

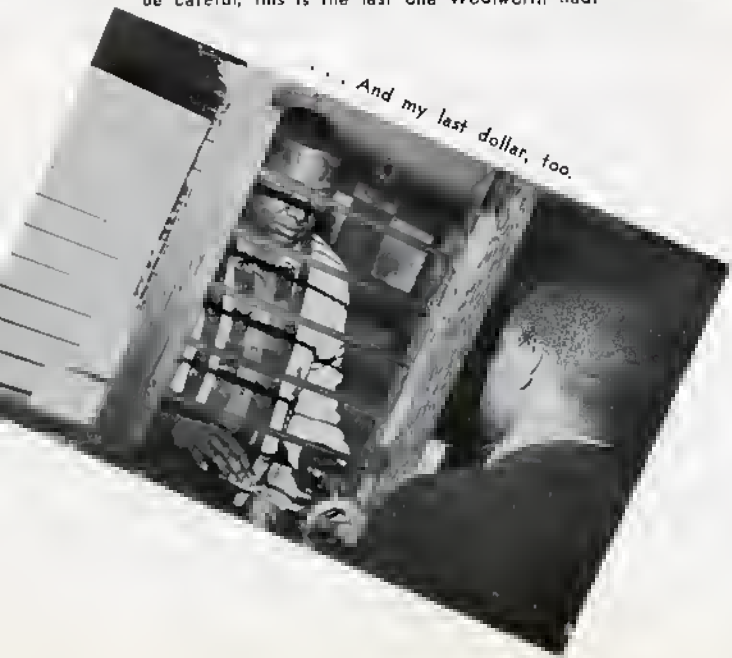

If you won't, "Mr. Clean" will.

Too light for the "Blue Eight."

Don't worry, fellows, she always uses non-smear lipstick.

... And my last dollar, too.

You don't know what's happening. I heard it like this . . .

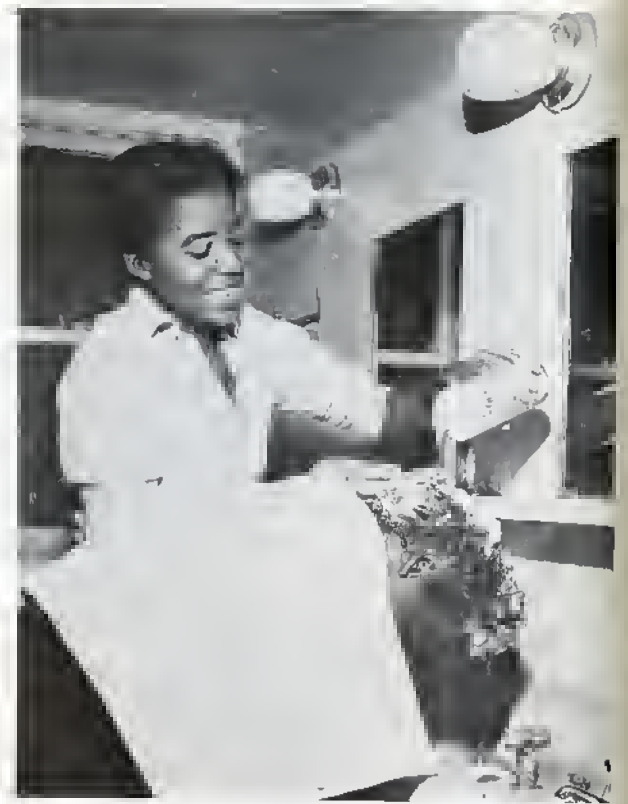

Let me see whether you owe a fine before you sign that card.

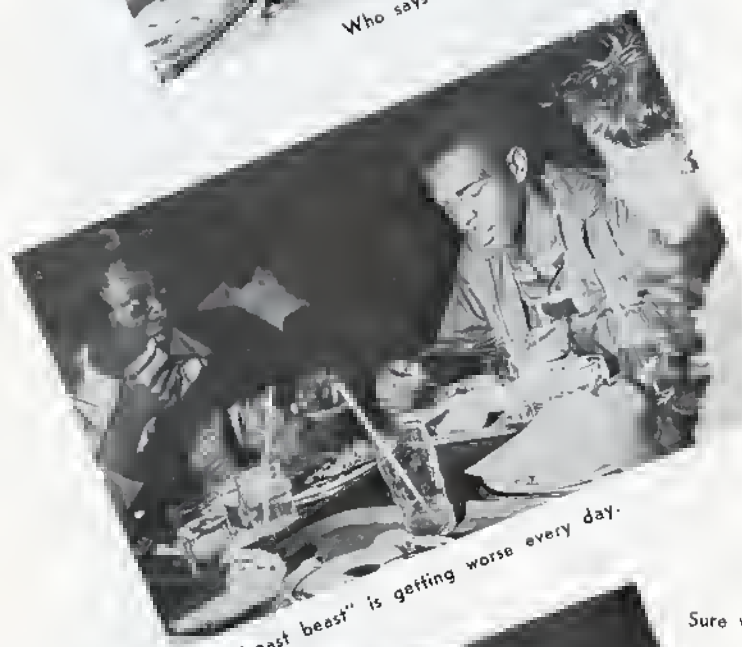

MOMENTS TO REMEMBER

Who says it's too late to cram?

Nine out of 10 use Madame Walker.

This "roast beast" is getting worse every day.

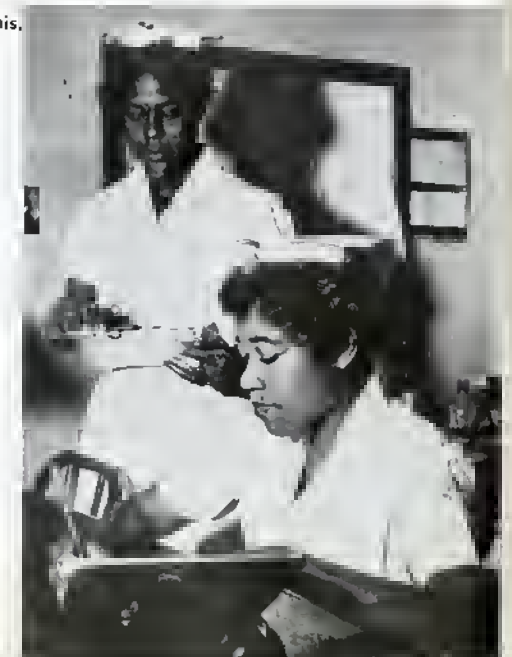

I wonder why the bell doesn't ring.

You're not holding your mouth right.

Sure wish all of our work was like this.

SPORTS

THOMAS GREER
Editor

Dillard University sponsors the usual intercollegiate sports—football, basketball and track. Beside the competition itself, these sports give the participating students an opportunity to visit other colleges and universities, and to observe campus life there. Invariably, they come back with a new appreciation for Alma Mater.

Dillard also has an active intramural program, which gives students who don't wish to participate in varsity sports an opportunity to compete with fellow-students on campus.

Whether he goes out for intercollegiate or intramural sports, the student learns cooperation—to work with others as a member of a team—and this is something that will stand him in good stead throughout life.

The football season this year wasn't much to brag about. Let's face it. But the disappointments of the fall (three wins versus five losses) were more than made up during the winter season. The basketball team this year was tops. During regular season play, they lost only one game—and that by a heartbreaking 62-60 score. Our early press deadline makes it necessary to pass over the track team, but as this is being written they look fairly good, though inexperienced.

The important thing about sports is sportsmanship, and Dillard teams in every instance reflected nothing but credit upon their University and fellow-students. Dillard is proud of them!

Assistant Coach

The Dillard University football team this year, in the absence of Coach Armstead A. Pierro, was headed by Coach William Martin. His assistants were Coach Robert Marion, a graduate of Michigan State University, and Coach Artis Davenport, a graduate of Tuskegee Institute, both newcomers to Dillard. Coach Pierro is at Indiana University, working on his doctorate.

The Dillard Blue Devils opened the 1959 football year with an optimistic view of their chances for the coming season. The football ranks had been strengthened by many promising freshmen, whom Coach Martin had recruited. But, the Devils had also lost many stars by graduation. Although the Devils fell below their 1958 season record, it was felt by all they would have done much better if it had not been for injuries of such promising players as Clarence Reid and Arnold Nevels.

Throughout the year the Devils were capably led by Captain Melford Spooner and co-captains Billy Williams and John Lee. The offense was engineered by Williams and the consistent running of Irvin Overton, Tom Letcher and Nelson Meyers. On defense there was always Bobbie (Big Daddy) Minnard, Johnny Cunningham and (Big) Johnny Williams.

Although the mighty Blue Devils had a rather poor season, they were still able to tie for the championship of the Gulf Coast Athletic Association.

LOUIS ANDREW

Dillard University's 1959-60 basketball team, under the direction of Coach William Martin, was the greatest in the history of the school. It not only gained more victories and higher national ranking than any previous Devil team, but also provided its share of record-breaking performances, such as winning for the third year in succession the Gulf Coast Athletic Association Championship, and placing a season's record of 22-3.

The Devils came up this year with their best season in the history of the University. The high-scoring Devils also had another banner year against their cross-town rivals, the Xavier University Gold Rush, defeating them three times.

After winning over Southern University in three contests, it was the consensus that Dillard would run away with the N.A.A. regional tournament, but thrice-beaten Southern put us out of the running.

The Devils came up with a sensational freshman, Louis Andrews, 6'6" forward of New Orleans, who led the team in rebounds and was one of the top scorers.

TRACK

Last year, Dillard's track team lost its conference championship bid to Huston-Tillotson College. This year, with four returning lettermen and a larger-than-usual number of freshman hopefuls, Coach Artis Davenport is optimistic as we go to press that the Devils will regain the championship.

ORGANIZATIONS

NORMA JEAN FRANCOIS
Editor

Organization integrates. The embryo organization is a group of persons with common objectives; the mature organization is the strengthening of each member through his contribution to the whole.

At Dillard University the organization can provide a medium through which students who have common interests can unite in order to develop these interests. Man is a social animal and group life is significant for him. The organization serves as a training ground for leadership and responsibility for community living.

All organizations at Dillard should have some significance not only for their members but for the University as a whole. That is, each group should make its influence for good felt by the entire University community.

Education is knowledge for living, and the organization can give something that the classroom cannot give. It is hoped that the student will join the organization and support it, for an organization without unity is simply a group of people.

"Union does everything when it is perfect. It satisfies desires, simplifies needs, foresees the wishes; and becomes a constant fortune."—Senencour

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL OF THE STUDENT UNION

CORNELIUS MERRICK
President of the Council

The Executive Council of the Student Union is the student governing body of Dillard University. The Council acts as a clearing house for student opinion on all matters concerning student welfare, provides a means through which students may work in close co-operation with administrative officers and faculty members in all programs, and serves as a practical laboratory for exercising the democratic process.

WHO'S WHO

AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES

Sixteen students from Dillard University were selected for inclusion in the 1960 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

The criteria used for selection are high scholarship, campus leadership, service to the institution, and promise of future usefulness. Students from approximately 750 colleges and universities are included in the publication.
